

Speakers

A circular portrait of Alketa Peci is on the left. To its right is a timeline with three dots labeled '1990s', '2010s', and '2020s'. Below the portrait, the text reads: 'Palestrante Alketa Peci FULL PROFESSOR FGV EBAPE'. At the bottom, it says 'SAO PAULO SCHOOL OF ADVANCED SCIENCE ON REGULATORY GOVERNANCE' and 'FGV' with 'FGV EAESP • FGV DIREITO SP • FGV EBAPE • FGV DIREITO RIO With financial support from FAPESP'.

Alketa Peci, PhD - FGV EBAPE

Full Professor at FGV EBAPE, with research interests focused on the study of bureaucracy and its reforms. Her work concentrates on autonomous bureaucracies—including regulatory agencies and courts of accounts—bureaucratic representativeness, and public-private partnerships. She is Associate Editor of Regulation and Governance, Editor-in-Chief of Revista de Administração Pública, and Vice Dean of Education at FGV EBAPE. Between 2021 and 2023, she served as President of ANPAD. <http://lattes.cnpq.br/1739997490142452>

A circular portrait of Bronwen Morgan is on the left. To its right is a timeline with three dots labeled '1990s', '2010s', and '2020s'. Below the portrait, the text reads: 'Palestrante Bronwen Morgan PROFESSOR OF LAW UNIVERSITY OF NEW SOUTH WALES'. At the bottom, it says 'SAO PAULO SCHOOL OF ADVANCED SCIENCE ON REGULATORY GOVERNANCE' and 'FGV' with 'FGV EAESP • FGV DIREITO SP • FGV EBAPE • FGV DIREITO RIO With financial support from FAPESP'.

Bronwen Morgan, PhD - University of New South Wales, Australia

Professor of Law at the University of New South Wales. She works on topics such as emerging legalities in the sharing economy, alternative currencies, social entrepreneurship, hyperlocal climate governance, and the role of the regulatory state in the Global South, connecting experimental legal practices and forms of “prefigurative legality” aimed at shaping more just and sustainable futures. <https://www.unsw.edu.au/staff/bronwen-morgan>

A circular portrait of Bruno Cunha is on the left. To its right is a timeline with three dots labeled '1990s', '2010s', and '2020s'. Below the portrait, the text reads: 'Palestrante Bruno Cunha RESEARCHER AND SPECIALIST IN PUBLIC POLICY AND GOVERNMENT MANAGEMENT IPEA'. At the bottom, it says 'SAO PAULO SCHOOL OF ADVANCED SCIENCE ON REGULATORY GOVERNANCE' and 'FGV' with 'FGV EAESP • FGV DIREITO SP • FGV EBAPE • FGV DIREITO RIO With financial support from FAPESP'.

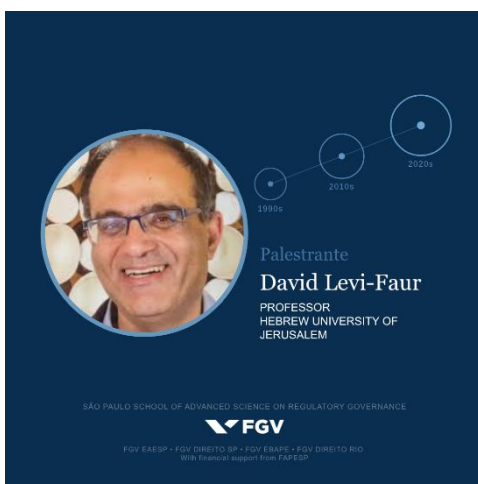

Bruno Cunha, PhD – IPEA

Specialist in Public Policy and Government Management (EPPGG) and researcher at the Institute for Applied Economic Research (IPEA). He has professional and academic experience in public policy and public administration, with a focus on regulation and governance, administrative and institutional reforms, state capacity, and public sector innovation. He holds a PhD in Economics from UFRJ and a Master’s in Public Administration from the LSE. <http://lattes.cnpq.br/8450689231946164>

Camilo Gonzalez, PhD - Universidad de los Andes, Colombia

Associate Professor at the School of Government, Universidad de los Andes. He is a member of the Politics & Public Governance research group at the University of Antwerp and a member of the Standing Group in Regulatory Governance of the ECPR. His research topics include regulation of public services, public sector innovation, public procurement, inter-institutional coordination, decentralization, transparency, and open government. <https://gobierno.uniandes.edu.co/camilo-ignacio-gonzalez-becerra/>

David Levi-Faur, PhD - Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel

Professor at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, specializing in comparative political economy, public policy, regulation, and governance. Levi-Faur is one of the leading authorities on regulation in the social sciences. He co-founded the Standing Group on Regulation and Governance of the ECPR (European Consortium for Political Research). Together with John Braithwaite and Cary Coglianese, he is founding editor of the journal Regulation & Governance. <https://en.politics.huji.ac.il/people/david-levi-faur>

Diogo Coutinho, PhD - University of São Paulo (USP)

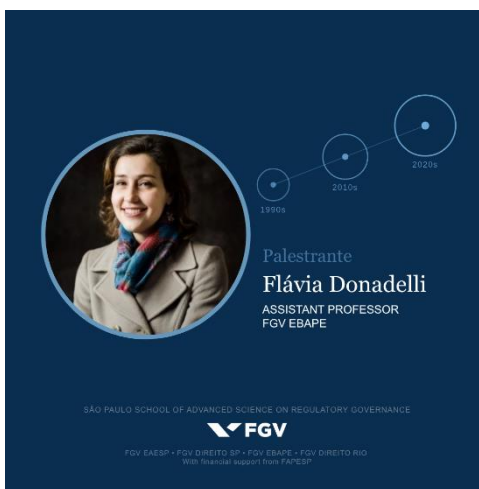

Professor of Economic Law and Political Economy at the University of São Paulo (USP) and a CNPq Research Productivity Fellow. He holds an MSc in Regulation from the London School of Economics (LSE), a PhD in Law from USP, and a Habilitation (livre-docência) in Economic Law from USP. He has been a visiting professor and researcher at institutions including the IGLP (Harvard University), IPEA, Cebrap, and FGV São Paulo Law School. Since 2007, he has coordinated the Law and Public Policy research group. He is co-chair of the International Activities Committee (IAC) of the Law and Society Association (LSA) and a member of the Academic Advisory Group at the O'Neill Institute for National and Global Health Law (Georgetown Law Center).

<http://lattes.cnpq.br/2040658407832377>

Elize Massard da Fonseca, PhD - FGV EAESP

Associate Professor of Public Administration at the São Paulo School of Business Administration, Getulio Vargas Foundation (FGV EAESP), Brazil. She has been a visiting researcher at the University of California, Berkeley, London School of Economics, University of Michigan, and University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign. Her research examines the political economy of pharmaceutical regulation, health industry policy, and infectious disease governance, with a focus on how regulatory and industrial policies shape access to medicines in the Global South. Her work has appeared in Research Policy, The New England Journal of Medicine, and other leading journals. <http://www.elizemassard.org>

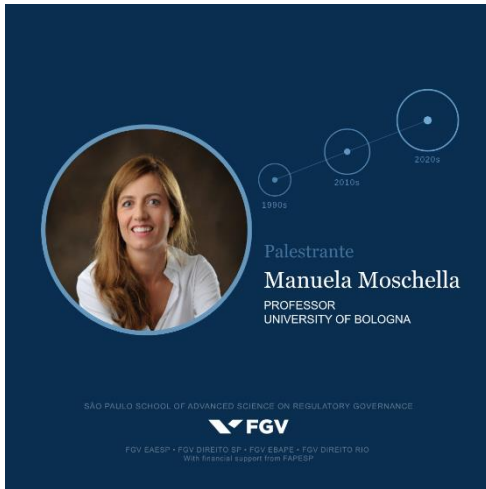

Flávia Donadelli, PhD - FGV EBAPE

Assistant Professor at FGV EBAPE. She was an assistant professor at the London School of Economics from 2016 to 2018 and an associate professor (with tenure) at Victoria University of Wellington in New Zealand. She has published in leading journals including Regulation and Governance and the International Review of Administrative Sciences. Her research involves regulation, administrative reforms, and evidence-based policy. <http://lattes.cnpq.br/1001118122951790>

Kenneth Shadlen, PhD - London School of Economics, United Kingdom

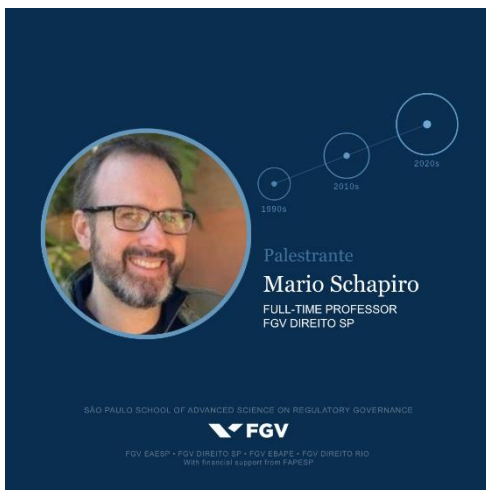

Professor of Development Studies in the Department of International Development at the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE). His research focuses on the comparative and international political economy of development, with emphasis on variation in national policy responses to changing global rules. His work centers on the global and cross-national politics of intellectual property (IP) and its implications for late development. He is the author of Coalitions and Compliance: The Political Economy of Pharmaceutical Patents in Latin America. He also works on the political economy of health and pharmaceutical policies, North-South trade agreements, and government-business relations. From 2011 to 2020, he was one of the Managing Editors of the Journal of Development Studies. <https://www.lse.ac.uk/people/ken-shadlen>

Manuela Moschella, PhD - University of Bologna, Italy

Professor at the University of Bologna. She studies the political dynamics of economic policymaking and the transformation of European political economy and economic governance. She is editor of the Review of International Political Economy and author of Unexpected Revolutionaries: How Central Banks Made and Unmade Economic Orthodoxy.

<https://www.unibo.it/sitoweb/manuela.moschella/en>

Mario Schapiro, PhD - FGV Direito SP

Full-Time Professor at FGV Direito SP, where he coordinates the academic master's and doctoral programs and co-coordinates the Center for Law and Political Economy (NUDEP). He holds post-doctoral degrees from New York University School of Law and the University of Melbourne, both funded by FAPESP, and earned his PhD and master's in Economic Law from the University of São Paulo. He has been a faculty member at the IGLP (Harvard University) and a researcher at IPEA and CEPESP (FGV). Since 2023, he has served on the expert panel of the Climate and Society Institute (ICS). His research focuses on law and development and the political economy of economic regulation, with emphasis on the financial system and climate transition. <https://lattes.cnpq.br/0582647154959175>

Martin Lodge, PhD - London School of Economics, United Kingdom

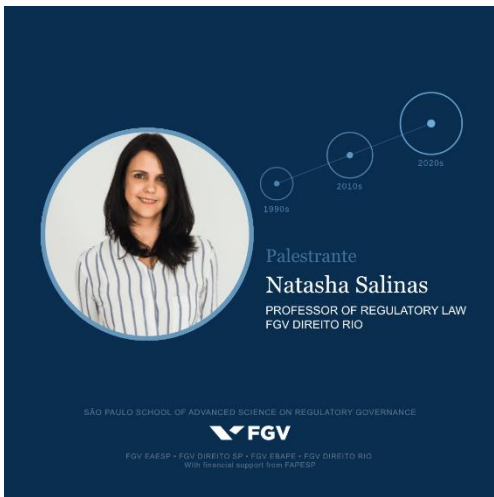

Professor of Political Science and Public Policy at the London School of Economics. Lodge studies comparative regulatory regimes and policies, institutional analysis, and German, British, and European Union public policy. He is considered one of the leading scholars of regulation and serves as co-director of the Centre for Analysis of Risk and Regulation at LSE.

<https://www.lse.ac.uk/government/people/academic-staff/martin-lodge>

Mauricio Dussauge Laguna, PhD - FLACSO México

Research Professor at FLACSO México. He works in the areas of civil services, administrative reforms, anti-corruption, policy transfer, performance management, regulatory agencies, and populism. He is currently a member of Mexico's National System of Researchers, Level III. He was a Fulbright Fellow in the United States Government and has served as a consultant for the World Bank and the Inter-American Development Bank. <https://www.flacso.edu.mx/dussauge-laguna-mauricio/>

Natasha Salinas, PhD - FGV Direito Rio

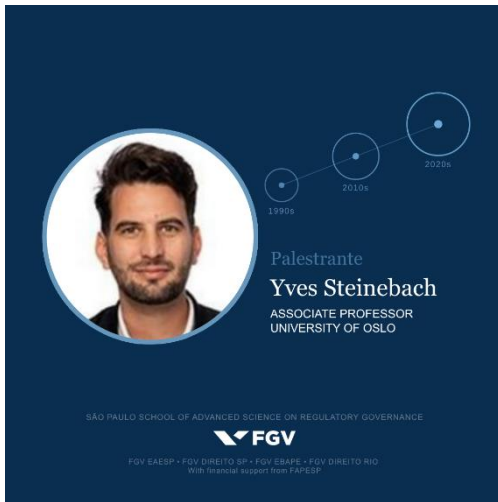

Professor of Regulatory Law at FGV Direito Rio. She was Adjunct Professor at the Federal University of São Paulo from 2013 to 2017. She currently works on the Regulation in Numbers project, conducting research on decision-making processes in regulatory agencies, legislative oversight of the executive branch, and normative production by the executive branch. <http://lattes.cnpq.br/4591449107511906>

Paulo Furquim, PhD - Inesper

Full Professor and holder of the Família Martinez Goldberg Chair at Inesper, where he coordinates the Center for Regulation and Democracy (CRD). He holds a degree in Public Administration from FGV and a master's and PhD in Economics from FEA-USP. He was a Visiting Professor at MIT and a Visiting Scholar at UC Berkeley. He is a CNPq Research Productivity Fellow and has authored numerous articles and book chapters on antitrust, regulation, market organization, and law and economics. He has coordinated thematic projects with FAPESP, the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB), CEDES, IDRC, and the National Council of Justice (CNJ).

<https://lattes.cnpq.br/7286319140069530>

Yves Steinebach, PhD - University of Oslo, Norway

Associate Professor at the University of Oslo. His research is located at the intersection of public policy and public administration, focusing on the effectiveness of public policies and governing institutions at both the national and international levels. He co-authored Policy Accumulation and the Democratic Responsiveness Trap and A Matter of Style? Organizational Agency in Global Public Policy (Cambridge University Press). He has published in journals such as American Political Science Review, Political Analysis, Regulation & Governance, and Governance. He is Principal Investigator in the REGCIRC project on regulating the circular economy and plastics in the OECD world.

<https://www.sv.uio.no/isv/english/people/aca/yvesst/>