

Tenure-track positions (Assistant or Associate Professor) in Marketing at FGV EAESP (Sao Paulo, Brazil)

The Sao Paulo School of Business Administration at Getulio Vargas Foundation (FGV EAESP) invites applications for a full-time permanent position (tenure-track) at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in Marketing and related fields to work at the Department of Marketing of its campus in Sao Paulo. FGV EAESP is committed to diversity and inclusion and invites applications from all backgrounds to apply.

Applicants should hold a Ph.D. in a relevant area and the ability to teach and communicate in English. The successful candidate will be capable of developing and delivering teaching programs ensuring high-quality teaching and learning experiences. They will present a well-articulated research agenda (academic and applied research) and a track record of high-quality publications. Excellent communication skills and willingness to engage with staff and students from all backgrounds are mandatory.

Successful applicants will be expected to make a solid contribution to research. They will also be capable of teaching undergraduate and graduate courses, supervising research students, and contribute to FGV EAESP's reputation. The candidate should also show capacity to coordinate undergraduate and postgraduate programs. The potential to publish excellent quality research outputs is necessary. The school welcomes applicants with a strong background in research design and methods. Involvement in studies with international partners is recommended. The candidates must demonstrate the ability to deliver quality teaching using digital and innovative methods. The ideal candidate will do research that influences academics and practitioners.

You will be joining a vibrant research community in one of the best business schools in Latin America and a leading research-intensive institution. In 2004, the Sao Paulo School of Business Administration became the first Brazilian business school to get triple accreditation from AACSB, EFMD, and AMBA. FGV EAESP has around 2200 undergraduate students, 1600 graduate students, 250 faculty members, and 100 staff members. Besides, FGV EAESP partners with more than 100 leading schools around the world. With over 70 years of tradition, Getulio Vargas Foundation is a nonprofit organization focused on excellence and international projection. Our mission is to stimulate Brazil's socio-economic development. In 2016, Getulio Vargas Foundation was appointed as one of the best think tanks in the world, according to the Global Go To Think Tanks by Pennsylvania University.

Please send applications to mkt@fgv.br and include:

- A cover letter - no longer than two pages - explaining why the candidate possesses the main requirements mentioned above.
- A detailed resume (or online CVLattes, for Brazilian candidates).
- Up to three research papers.
- Evidence of teaching excellence

Approved candidates will be invited to start teaching at a convenient date for both parties. Salary and benefits are competitive with peer institutions and commensurate with qualification and experience. Confidential inquiries can be made to Head of Marketing Department Professor Felipe Zambaldi, who will also be available for informal queries (mkt@fgv.br).

FGV EAESP is located in São Paulo, downtown. For more details about the school, visit our website at www.fgv.br/eaesp/en.